Sunday School Rally Sunday Ends Campaign in Churches—Parade to be Staged Sunday Morning at 10:30

Fifteen Hundred in Sunday School Next Sunday Morning is Goal of Citizens Committee Working With Pastors of the City—Parade Will be Staged, and Union Services Held Sunday.

Sunday will be the final day of the Sunday School campaign for the month of October, and the climax of the month's work will be featured in a union service at the Baptist Church at 11 o'clock.

Fifteen hundred people of Canyon are expected to be in Sunday School next Sunday morning, states W. A. Warren, chairman of the committee which has been working on the Sunday School campaign for the past month. Every member of every church in Canyon is urged by Mr. Warren to attend Sunday School, and then join in the great Sunday School parade which will end at the Baptist Church for the union services.

The parade will start at the Presbyterian Church at 10:30. The College Band will head the parade, with Mr. Warren as chief marshal. The parade will head down Fifth avenue to the First Christian church, where those in this church will join the parade. Marching to the Methodist Church, the Sunday School workers of that church will poin, and the parade head west on Fourth to the Baptist Church where this Sunday School will likewise join. The parade will continue west to the First National Bank corner, thence south a block, back east to the Christian church, and thence north to the Baptist Church for the union services.

The city officials and the county officials will join in the parade as official representatives of the local government.

Mr. Warren is very anxious that all Sunday School members shall not only attend the Sunday morning services, but also join in the parade.

Children's Plays Start at College This Afterooon

The Children's Theater will give its first performance this afternoon at 3:45 with "Up Ceaser's Creek" as the play. This play was given several years ago and was so well liked that there have been requests for its repitition. The cast is made up entirely of boys, but the adventures are such that grown-ups and children of both sexes will enjoy it equally.

The performance this afternoon is open to everyone, with no admission charge.

A new plan is being used by the Children's Theater committee this year, in an effort to make it possible for every child to attend the performances. Members of the College faculty are admitted as guests to any performances they can arrange to attend, but each is urged to buy a season ticket at one dollar and present it to some child who would not be able to attend.

The committee, consisting of C. W. Batchelder, F. E. Savage, Miss Mary Morgan Brown, Miss Ada V. Clark, Miss Jennie C. Ritchie, Miss Helen White Moore and Miss Novella Goodman, believes that there will be people interested in the pleasure and growth of Canyon's children who will buy season tickets for them and thus enable the Children's Theatre to continue the work which it has done so well for the past few years. Less than 20 percent of children are able to buy their own tickets this year, but a full 100 per cent of them want to go to the performances.

The play this afternoon is open to the public in order that people may understand the purposes and character of work of this organigation, in order to know whether they wish to make it possible for the play production to go on. Seven other plays will be given during the year if the present plans of the organization are carried out during the year.

Rotary Hears Talk on Conditions of the World Today

Father and daughter day will be observed by the Canyon Rotary Club next Tuesday at the luncheon. This will be the first of a number of special luncheons to be held the Rotary club during the coming four months.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church complimented the club by giving a free meal Tuesday to all present. George Cox and Travis Shaw donated the venison, which they had killed in New Mexico the week previously, and the ladies of the church furnished the remainder of the meal. The Rotary Club has been entertained at this church for the past two years.

The birthdays of Joe Hill on the 29th and Clyde Warwick on the 15th were announced.

Walter Upuchurch, the best exhibitor in the state of Texas, was introduced to his fellow Rotarians.

Announcement of the Sunday School rally day was made by W. A. Warren, and club members urged to participate.

Guests present Tuesday were G. W. Scott, S. F. Sullenberger, O. R. Allen, of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cox, L. F. Sheffy, Fred E. Wortham and L. N. George, all of Canyon.

The program was in charge of the Public Information committee, Irby Carruth, chairman. L. F. Sheffy, head of the History department of the College, made an interesting talk on the leading issues of the day. He stated that the world was confronted with the most serious international crisis in history. The Japan-China problem is one of these problems. If the League of Nations can settle the difficulty, it will prove its strength.

The financial difficulties of the nations of Europe is most serious. Mr. Sheffy called attention to the election in England on Tuesday, the issues which were largely based on the financial difficulties. England is 35 billions in debt, and the annual deficit amounts to 600 million. To attempt to balance the budget is the big issue, included in which are the dole system, social insurance, the strife of capital and labor and unemployment.

The present difficulties in nations is proving the strength of France. France has taken the position that in every settlement or attempt to adjust differences her future must be secured.

The nations of the earth have found that victory in war does not bring prosperity, stated the speaker. Time was when wars were waged for gain, but now it is different. One solution appeared to be the only one to give immediate relief to the nations, the cancellation of war dabts. Europe owes the United States 12 billions of dollars. If this debt were cancelled to nations which would reduce its armament and stop preparing for furture wars, there might be some relief in the financial difficulties of the nations of the world.

Taxes Studied by Local Committee

Members of the Public Expenditures and Tax Committee of the Chamber of Commerce to serve in co-operation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce were announced last week by J. B. Ellis-ton, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce. They are: C. H. Jarrett, chairman, W. D. Smith, J. J. Bauer, G. G. Foster and A. M. Smith.

The purpose of the public expenditures move by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is a reduction in city, county, state and federal government expenditures with the view of reducing taxes. Public expenditures for all purposes now consume one-seventh of the national income.

Miss Dorothy Vernon left the past week end for Vernon where she will teach in the schools for the coming session.

Old Timer Makes Visit To Museum

The Panhandle Plains Historical Society Museum was visited yesterday by F. W. DeBoice and son, Rainey DeBoice of Knoxville, Tenn.

Mr. DeBoice worked as bookkeeper for the XIT ranch in 1887; he found in the museum copies of hundreds of letters which he had written at that time.

Mr. DeBoice related how the first news sheet was gotten out at Channing. He and some other young men had twenty-four sheets of paper. So there were 24 copies of the sheet which was hektographed. It was called the "Channing Hummer."

The raised figure of a woman clad in tights appeared on a whiskey bottle one of the amatuer editors had, so it was used as a pattern, and the figure appeared in the middle of the page as "Mrs. Hummer."

Copies of the paper were sent to Fort Worth and Dallas where they were reproduced in full. Mr. DeBoice still has one of the original sheets which he has promised to the Historical Society.

CAPTURES PORCUPINE.

W. W. Hall captured a porcupine eight miles north of Canyon Tuesday morning. The animal was crossing the highway when seen by Mr. Hall, who caught it with a rope and brought it to town.

Frank Hicks, city marshal, states that several porcupines have been brought to town the past two weeks which had been caught in the county. People are wondering where they came from, as few have been known on the Plains in recent years.

It is expected that between 400 and 500 citizens of Randall county will attend this feed, whuch will be in the nature of an old time chuck wagon feed, such as was common in the cow camps of twenty five years ago. John W. Turner is superintending the meal, with El Rusk, Bud Jowell, Dr. Harry Brown, Byrle Elliston and Dr. Saddoris his chief assistants. They promise one of the biggest feeds ever dispensed at a Chamber of Commerce dinner.

All who wish tickets should reserve them with Fred E. Wortham, secreary of the Chamber of Commerce by Saturday of this week in order that the cooks may know just how many to prepare for on this occasion.

The program is being arranged by Clyde W. Warwick, who will act as chief wrangler for the occasion.

W. A. Warren is making general arrangements in the Ford building where the feed will be staged.

T. C. Thompson has charge of the plates and other utensils, which will be of true cow camp nature.

Magaine Carries Pictures of County

A large number of the Panhandle of Texas, Inc., roto-gravure magazines have been distributed by the Chamber of Commerce, Fred E. Wortham, secretary announces. This magazine which has gone out with the agricultural exhibits of the Panhandle of Texas, Inc., to the various fairs over the country and mailed out by the various Chambers of Commerce in the Panhandle is very attractive and gives a splendid review of the resources of the Panhandle country.

A page is devoted to Randall county, showing her diversified farm activities, a view of the college campus and a canyon scene. The back cover page of the magazine is devoted to a view of the Lighthouse in the Palo Duro canyon. Reports from the Dallas fair state that the Lighthouse picture has attracted more attention to Canyon than any other section of the Panhandle.

The cover page showing a large picture of a scene in the Palo Duro canyon and an inside page devoted to information about the college and the county will be used.

Chapel Saturday Is First Regular Assembly of Year

It is indeed hard for the freshmen of W. T. to understand where all the adverse remarks about the chapel exercises here originated after having been present at the interesting program in Saturday's chapel.

After a general sing-song led by Mr. Clark, President Hill introduced the following speakers and their subjects: R. A. Terrill, "The Physical Plant of W. T.", Newton Crane, "The Faculty," Dorothy Staley, "The Student Body," Odis Rawlins, "Extra Activities," Mr. Shirley, "Athletics," Dr. Jarrett, "Curricula and Rank of W. T. in the College World." Dr. Hill promised to discuss his topic, "The Spirit of the College," at a later date.

The election of a boy and a girl representative to the student council from the student body at large proved to be unsuccessful, and the matter will be taken up at a later date.

Chamber Commerce Names Officers for Coming Year in Meeting Held on Thursday—T. C. Thompson Is Head

Splendid Report of Activities of Past Year is Made by Secretary and the Retiring Officers—Plans for the Coming Year Include Active Program—New Directors in Charge.

The annual election of officers, review of the past year's work, and a brief statement as to plans for the future was the order of business for the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held Thursday night at the court house, which was attended by about forty members. Byrle Elliston, retiring president, presided. He expressed the very great appreciation of the officers for the wonderful co-operation given during the past year by the board of directors. He was highly pleased with the efforts made by all directors to carry forward the work of the organization during the past year, which included the following: Furnishing pure seed to the farmers and boys' club members; canyon visiting days to the Palo Duro; college band trips; sponsoring the high school band; district and Great Plains track and field meets; county interscholastic league meet; assisting the college and ex-students in the field work; presenting canyon views at Austin and Enid, Okla.; sending delegates to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual and district meetings; creating the Palo Duro Park; working to save the Goodnight buffalo herd; two radio programs; entertaining teachers institute; assisting with county exhibit for Tri-State and Dallas Fairs; sending 288 news articles to newspapers; giving information about Canyon in 528 letters, in addition to mailing folders and printed material; work to maintain downtown telegraph office; assisting in the work of Panhandle of Texas, Inc., work for a new mail route from Canyon.

As to the immediate future work of the organization, Mr. Wortham pointed out the coming meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association in Amarillo and the plans for a trip to the Palo Duro. In connection with this is the candidacy of Dr. J. A. Hill for president, which is being sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Protesting the rerouting of highway 366 away from the city is taking considerable time. Daily information is being sought by many people, as to labor and other conditions in the city. Mr. Wortham called attention to the 25th anniversary of the city of Canyon on Nov. 3rd, and to the program which is being sponsored by the organization at that time. He urged all members to be present and to invite all of the citizens of Canyon to attend this program. Efforts are now being made to secure a modern tourist camp, feed mill, and chicken hatchery for the city. A merchants institute is almost assured to be held in March.

Levi Cole, treasurer, made a report as to the financial condition of the Chamber of Commerce.

D. A. Shirley made a report of the nomination cimmittee and those named were elected.

T. C. Thompson, who was named president, made a short statement as to the future work to be undertaken. He was highly pleased with the large number present and the interest shown in the work of the chamber. He urged that every business man give some of his time to the program of the chamber during the coming year. The main thing Canyon needs now is for Canyon to sell ourselves to ourselves. He praised the harmony existing for the past years, and hopes to see it continue in the future.

Dr. J. A. Hill thanked the citizens for the splendid support given the College in the past. He looked upon everything in Canyon as a community affair, and hoped that all (the faculty and town people) would refrain from thinking in terms of either the town or the college, but always refer to everything here as a community affair. The museum is one of the things which is drawing the attention of the worthwhile people of all Northwest Texas to the college. He hoped that every citizen would do his part in the construction. Dr. Hill stated that had he known board and room would be offered as cheaply as this year there would have been at least 100 more students in the college.

Ray V. Davis called attention to the fact that Canyon was a host city. There are always visitors here. Sometimes they come in large groups, but more often in small groups. Visitors who are treated courteously go away with a kindly feeling toward the town and college. He urges that every citizen take great pains to be courteous to the visitors.

S. H. Condron stated that he had been a resident of Canyon for four years and had always found the citizens extremely courteous. He stated that every citizen owed something to the town in which he lived and so long as he was a citizen he should take his place in the community. Free riders do not bring prosperity to a community.

L. N. George expressed appreciation of the co-operation given during the campaign for more students. Various business men sponsored the campaign in several counties of the Plains, and the result was very satisfactory.

NEW OFFICERS OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The following have been named to head the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year:
President—T. C. Thompson.
Vice-President—Ray V. Davis.
Directors—T. C. Thompson, Ray V. Davis, A. W. Sternenberg, Harris M. Cook, Albert Byars, W. A. Warren, S. H. Condron.

Floydada Sending Good Team Against Eagles Here Friday

A battle royal is expected by the football fans of Canyon when the Floydada Whirlwinds come to the city Friday afternoon to play the Canyon high school Eagles in a nonconference fray. Another of the conference contenders in this district was placed out of the running last Friday when the Eagles raced over the lighter Dimmitt Bobcats to win 27-0.

After this week only one other game remains on the Eagle schedule and that with Hereford on the Whiteface gridiron. This last game will be a conference affair and will decide the winner of this section of District 1.

Floydada has been playing first class football this year and is looked upon as the Class B team to win the title in District 2. Last year the Whirlwinds took the Eagles to a trimming on the Floydada field by a score of 25-6. The Canyon boys are out to avenge that defeat this year.

Coach Edgar Brady has his men in fairly good condition for the coming game. All of the cripples of last week are about ready for action. The weakened condition of his team when they played Dimmitt will be remedied by the return of those who rode the benches last week.

The fact that this is the last home game for the Eagles, linked with the rivarly between the two teams it is expected that a large crowd will flock to Buffalo stadium to see the game. This will be the only grid game in Canyon this week-end. The Buffaloes will go to Abilene.

MISS ROWAN'S THESIS IS A HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

Miss Jonnie Rowan, a graduate student in the College has chosen as the subject of her Master's Thesis, "A History of the West Texas State Teachers College." Miss Rowan's parents were residents of Canyon when the college was founded in 1910.

Miss Rowan's study when complete will not only record the history of the first senior college in the Panhandle of Texas, but will reflect much of the development which has taken place in the region since the college was founded.

CONDITIONS 74 YEARS AGO.

Today the world is of the opinion that never before were conditions so hard as they are now. We have the idea that everything has just about gone on the rocks. Yet 74 years ago we find that conditions were practically the same as they are today. Here is what Harper's Weekly of October 10, 1857, had to say about conditions of that time:

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not in the lifetime of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time. In our own country there is universal, commercial prostration and panic, and thousands of our poorest fellow-citizens are turned out against the approaching Winter without employment, and without the prospect of it.

"In France the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection, and with its disturbed relations in China.

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference—(which, happily, no man pretends to feel)—in the issue of events.

"Of our own troubles no man can see the end. They are, fortunately, as yet mainly commercial, and if we are only to lose money, and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom—the wisdom of honor, of faith, of sympathy and of charity—no man need seriously to despair. And yet the very haste to be rich, which is the occasion of this widespread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity.

"Good friends! Let our conduct prove that the call comes to men who have large hearts, however narrowed their homes may be; who have open hands, however empty their purses. In times of peril we have nothing but manhood, strong in its faith in God, to rely upon; and whoever shows himself truly a God-fearing man now, by helping whenever and however he can, will be as blessed and beloved as a great light in darkness."

A prominent citizen of West Texas stated the other day that too many so-called economists were at large today. Their plea is that local bond issues should be floated for this, that and the other local project, in order to give employment to local labor. This is false economy, stated this practical man. He claims that no school district, city or county should undertake any kind of a project which the local citizens as individuals would consider extravagant if they were to attempt the same themselves. In other words, the local government can no more live beyond its income than can the individual. Attention has been pointed out time and again that high taxes of today are the result of local conditions of improvements rather than state or national expenditures.

Governor Sterling has vetoed the Brooks bill, as he was expected to do. The bill would have diverted one cent of the gasoline tax from the state highway construction fund to repay counties for outstanding bond issues and pay interest on these bonds. Without doubt the Brooks bill would have virtually done away with highway construction in Texas, as it takes practically one-fourth of the gasoline tax to maintain the present highway system. Counties which do not now have paved highways could hardly be expected to realise their dream of concrete under this bill, and the big counties which have large mileage of pavement would have received a very large percent of the refund. The Governor was right in his veto.

The 25th anniversary of Canyon as a political organization will be observed next Tuesday, Nov. 3rd, by the Chamber of Commerce in the annual banquet. If you think Canyon has not made considerable strides during the past 25 years, just buy a ticket to the feed and hear what some of the old timers have to say about the progress of the quarter century period.

MARRIED—Miss Ella Laughery was married at Hereford Saturday to Posey Winstead, a young man connected with the steam laundry of that town. The bridegroom is well spoken of at Hereford and Miss Ella's friends here, including The News office in which for a season she did good work as a compositor, desire to congratulate him as having won a prize from the lottery of life—one that will prove a "helpmeet" indeed if cherished as the bridal vow declares. They set up in housekeeping at Hereford the evening of their marriage, and The News, with many other friends of the bride in Canyon City, wish for them a happy married future.

"Who Is There In Canyon To Buy This Class of Merchandise?"

A few days ago we were asked that question by a woman who was visiting here. She remarked that she had never seen such a nice stock of high-class merchandise in a town of this size before.

She couldn't realize that Canyon had enough people who would use beautiful fountain pens and pencils to justify our handling the handsome desk pens we do.

But we have found that there are quite a number of people in Canyon who demand the better things—both for their own use and for their gifts—and that they enjoy trading at home where merchandise is usually lower and never higher in price than the same merchandise carried by first-class stores in the city.

The desk pens of Shaeffer make exceptionally nice gifts for either a man or a woman. There are some substantial masculine-looking bases of marble and onyx for the men and other more efminine designs in mother-of-pearl for the girl. The pens are lifetime and are standard in price, ranging from $7.50 to $15. At any time you want a GOOD USABLE gift, see these pens.

AMERICAN LEGION TO SELL POPPIES NOV. 11

Armistice Day the American Legion Auxiliary of Canyon will hold a Poppy Sale of veteran made poppies. The proceeds of the sale will benefit non-compensated, disabled, ex-service men and their families.

The poppies are made by disabled ex-service men in the Veterans hospital at Legion, Kerrville, Texas. For each 1,000 poppies a patient makes, he receives $10 from the Auxiliary for his work. He is not doled out money for charity but is being paid for doing honest labor. That fact alone helps to restore his confidence in his his ability to do something worthwhile. He begins to feel that he is not dying out after all, and not only does he feel that he is still in the game, but often the money comes just in time to relieve worry about the family at home.

It is the purpose of the Auxiliary to have these popies made by the veterans who are in the greatest need and thus lessen the burden of charity on these departments who look after the poor.

Since January 1, 1930 more than $7,000 have been paid to disabled men for poppies. All money received, above the cost of the flowers, is deposited with the Rehabilitation fund to care for the local poor.

Randall County Exhibits at Fairs Take Important Place During Past Years—W. H. Upchurch Holds Best Record in State

The winning exhibit of Randall that took second honors just eight-tenths of a point under the first place winner at the State Fair of Texas which closed Sunday, has attracted much attention to the regularity with which agricultural products of this county have won prizes at state and regional fairs.

The fact that Randall couty is the outstanding agricultural county of the Panhandle and one of the leading agricultural counties of Texas is seen by the consistency with which her agricultural products have won prizes over a period of several years.

In four of the past six years Randall county products have been on exhibition in competition with the rest of Texas at the State Fair in Dallas. One first place and three second places have been won in the four years. First place was won in 1930. The second place honors were received in 1931, 1928 and 1926.

Not only have the winnings placed Randall county among the top counties at the State Fair, but she has been the leader at the Tri-State Fair for the past four years. The 1931 first honors came to Randall county for the fourth consecutive year.

A brief survey of Randall county's exhibit winnings at state and regional fairs is of interest at this time. Exhibits have been sent at intervals for 20 years, but definite organigation began in 1924 by J. W. Jennings, who was county agent here. That year the county won third. In 1925 it dropped to seventh place. Then in 1926, still shown by Jennings, Randall county moved to second place.

Because of a change in county agents there were no competitive exhibits shown in 1927. A second place in 1929, the first year Randall county was exhibited by County Agent W. H. Upchurch, at the State Fair. In 1929 the county exhibit was combined with the Panhandle-Plains, Inc., and Upchurch had charge of that exhibit at Dallas. Then in the spring of 1930 using the 1929 fall exhibit, Upchurch was awarded first place at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. A Randall county exhibit of first place was burned in the disastrous fire of the Fat Stock Show in the spring of 1929. In 1930 the county won first place at Dallas and in 1931 second place.

For the past four years Randall county has held first place at the Tri-State Fair. Ribbons now hanging in the county agent's office indicate that this county won first place at the old Texas-Oklahoma Fair at Wichita Falls in 1925 and 1926; second in 1924 and 1925; and third in 1926 at the Tri-State Fair; second at the South Plains Fair at Lubbock in 1924.

In addition to his success as an exhibitor of Randall county products, Upchurch had a successful record in Hartley county. He has never exhibited a display of agricultural products at the State Fair for either county which has been judged lower than third place.

HIGH GAS VS. CHEAP GAS.

To The News:

Recent demands for cheaper gas has so aroused the people of West Texas and the Panhandle that many towns are now taking active and definite steps toward securing gas at a cheaper rate. Same towns have already secured cheaper gas —why not Canyon.

The legislature of the state of Texas has given towns of more than five hundred population the power to prescribe and to regulate the rates of public utilities. Viz: "The governing body of all cities and towns in the state of over five hundred population, incorporated under the General Laws there-of shall have power to regulate, by ordinance, the rates and compensation, to be charged by all water, gas, telephone companies, light and sewer companies, corporations or persons using the streets and public grounds of said city or town, and engaged in furnishing water, gas or sewerage service to the public and also to prescribe rules and regulations under which such commodities shall be furnished and service rendered, and to fix penalties to enforce such charges, rules and regulations. The governing body shall not prescribe any rate or compensation which will yield more than ten per cent per annum net on the actual cost of physical properties, equipment and betterments."

There has been so much dissatisfaction about gas rates in Canyon that a committee was appointed to draft a petition to the City Commission of Canyon, asking that they take immediate steps to investigate the rates now charged in Canyon and to pass an ordinance with said article above mentioned so that the people of Canyon may have cheaper gas this winter. This petition already has more than five hundred signers.

There is no doubt but what the people of Canyon want to continue the use of gas, but at rates in accordance with present conditions.

Fairness is exactly what the signers of the petition want, and we see no legitimate reasons why the investigation cannot be made at once, so that, if possible, the gas users of Canyon can get the benefit of cheaper gas this winter.

We believe that the gas company should have a reasonable rate of interest on not what the gas company spent in putting in our gas, but on what it would cost to replace the same now.

If you believe that this matter should be gone into thoroughly at this time, see some one who has the petition if you have not already signed.

We are not trying to bring about undue criticism of any one, but would like to see the wishes of the gas users of Canyon carried out.

Committee, S. G. Moore, J. I. Ballengee, H. W. Cabe.

COLLEGE STUDENTS WILL ATTEND STATE MEETING

Students of the College are being urged to attend the sessions of the Texas State Teachers Association in Amarillo November 26, 27 and 28.

COUNTY EXHIBIT PRAISED.

The products of Randall county which placed second at the State Fair, just eight-tenths of a point under the first place, was highly praised by H. M. Luna, exhibit manager of the Panhandle of Texas, who returned to Amarillo last week after attending the fair at Dallas.

"Displays from the Panhandle were the best," he said, "and especially the exhibit of Randall county."

WIRE WORM NOT SO BAD THIS YEAR IS REPORT

E. S. Jones, entomologist of the Texas A. & M. College, who has been conducting a survey in the Panhandle country for the past two years, studying the work of the false wire worm in wheat fields, was in Randall county several days ago. Mr. Jones states that the infection appears not to be as bad at this particular time as it was a year ago. He said that apparently the damage this fall to wheat fields would not be so bad as it was last year.

Still another trouble with life is that they can't pay the piper on the installment plan.

If the gasoline tax will build highways, then why not a tax on shoes to build sidewalks?

HAZARDS OF THE GAS BUSINESS

No other public utility operation is as hazardous as the natural gas business.

The duration of the business is limited by nature, because the commodity in which the utility deals is supplied by nature alone. The supply is limited and is exhaustible, and when exhausted can never be recreated.

Artificial gas companies, electric light companies, railroad companies, telegraph and telephone companies create the basic elements of their service; their business is stable and their duration is not limited. But this is not true of a natural gas utility. When the supply of gas is exhausted, the equipment is worthless except for the price it will bring as junk.

It is vital to the progress and welfare of any community that its utility companies be extended a measure of co-operation which will permit them to give the excellent service which they desire to give—and which the citizens have a right to expect.

Barry Wood of Harvard Provides That Unusual Phenomenon, a Lad Who Combines Gridiron Ability With Exceptional Brilliance in the Classroom

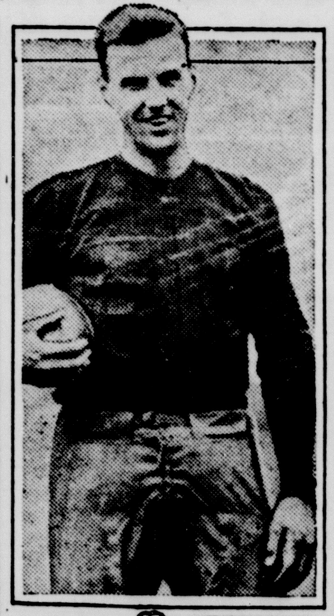
BY PHILIP MARTIN

A LOT less painful would be this annual process of eliminating football players of All-America possibilities if a few more of the athletes went in for scholastic as well as grid honors. I'm thinking particularly of William Barry Wood, Jr., straight "A" student at Harvard and one of the most gifted football players the 1931 season has seen.

Barry Wood wears a Phi Beta Kappa key he won last year through his knowledge of science, economics, philosophy and mathematics. He probably will wear All-America quarterback honors because of a superintelligence in matters of grid strategy.

Don't get the idea, however, that Wood sits in a rocking chair and tells his boys what to do and when. Fortunately for Harvard, he owns a very capable forward passing arm, an adept kicking toe and a high-geared pair of running legs, in addition to a nimble brain. The combination is one that Harvard's opponents can't afford to slight.

Consider what Wood did in the Harvard-Army game of Oct. 17. Two Cadet touchdowns and one point following touchdown would have demoralized the ordinary eleven and thrown its leader into the depths of blackest despair. But



Barry Wood

Mr. Wood didn't seem perturbed in the least.

He rallied his broken Crimson line after the manner of Sheridan at Winchester. He organized his running and passing attack and swiftly and surely pushed the Army back on its heels with each signal barked. He engineered two touchdowns and personally took care of the job of adding the two points thereafter, one of which was the sole margin of Harvard's triumph.

WOOD played 60 minutes in that game, a feat which seems to me worthy of comment in this day of shock troops and wholesale reserves and replacements. He was in there four full quarters, not only to win the game for Harvard but to save it after it had been won.

Of course Wood had to have capable assistance, and he got it. Harvard's forward wall of sophomores rallied to their leader and played like veterans after that first quarter. The Crimson captain didn't essay any ball-toting himself. But he did see that Bernie White, Johnny Crickard, Eddie Mays and Johnny Schereschewsky were kept busy lugging the oval. And when Army closed in to halt this savage running attack, Wood calmly called upon his aerial warfare to scatter the Army defense once more for his corps of hard-running ball carriers.

Girl Scouts Honor Founder Of Scouting

The Girl Scouts of America have set aside a week each year in honor of Juliett Lowe, founder of scouting. This is to be observed form Oct. 24th to Oct. 31 of this year.

Girl Scouts in all America strive harder to be better Scouts during these days than any other part of the year. In most instances special programs are made emphasizing the laws and what Girl Scouting really means, as Thrift Day and Neighbor Day. Scouts have more publicity during this time than at any other time.

The Thistle Troop, under the direction of Louis Goodrich, is observing the week with proper emphasis. All Scouts who have uniforms shall be seen in them on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. On Saturday candy will be sold on the square

May Scouting progress be doubled in the following Girl Scout year.

Ex-Student Notes

Miss Ila Slack, graduate of the class of '28, who is now principal of the Wildorado high school, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Slack.

Mrs. Howard Batchelder, formerly Mary Lockwood Sternenberg, an honor student and graduate of '29, is making her home at Wildorado, wher Mr. Batchelder is employed in the school.

Oressa Hastings, valedictorian of '31, is employed in Judge Orton's office and also attending W. T.

Joe Slack, who graduated in '27 is now teaching manual training in the high school of Wagon Mound, N. M.

DEMAND LESS OF GOVERNMENT

If any reduction is going to be made in local tax levies, the taxpayers must come to the support of public officials who are sincerely trying to economize, and back them up in their efforts to reduce budgets.

Unless this is done, the voices of the tax spenders, demanding this, that or the other at public expense, will prevail again this year, as they have too often in the past.

It does no good to sit at home and say nothing when county and local budgets are up for consideration and adoption, and then complain about the tax bill you will receive in September. Go now, in person, and register your desire that rigid economy be exercised in the making of all appropriations that enter into your county or local budgets.

Small groups desiring special appropriations can always be counted on to make themselves heard, often above the great majority of the taxpayers who are prone to remain inarticulate when they should speak out. It is the taxpayers' turn to be heard this year.

Regardless of political affiliations, staunch support should, and must, be given those officials who are making a genuine effort to cut costs.

The solvency of government is involved. A moratorium on expansion in public affairs is imperative. Demand less government, and let your demands be heard.—Arizona Taxpayers Magazine.

Eagles To Play Floydada in the Buffalo Stadium

The Eagles will play the strong Floydada team in a non-conference game at Canyon Friday of this week.

Floydada defeated Canyon last year and has almost as strong a team again. Floydada is a slight favorite because they held the strong Plainview Bulldogs to a tie, and the Bulldogs handed the Eagles the only defeat of the season.

Eagles Defeat Dimmitt By Score of 27-0

The Eagles defeated the Dimmitt Bobcats 27 to 0 in a slow conference game last Friday at Dimmitt.

Canyon scored every quarter on straight football. Pierson made two of the touchdowns, Wooten 1 and Wilson 1. In this game the Eagles succeeded in kicking goals, three out of four attempts, the first since the Borger game. Wooten kicked two of the goals, missing one, and Pierson made his only attempt good. The Kitties never threatened the Eagles' goal, making only one first down and that on a penalty.

This brings Canyon to the lead in this section of district one, Hereford, the only other team in the section that has not met defeat in a conference game, has to meet Tulia next Friday. If Hereford defeats Tulia, it leaves the section between Hereford and the Eagles. So the game between these old rivals, which will come off at Hereford, Nov. 6th will probably settle the battle of this section.

Chapel

Mrs. Cleatice Crump gave to the chapel of Oct. 20 a series of readings.

The following selections were given:

"Football as Dora Sees It," "Billie Keeps a Secret" and "As Told Over a Telephone."

The selections were of a very humorous nature, and sent everybody back to class smiling.

Rev. W. C. Kunze addressed the students Oct. 22 on the important topic, "How to Spend Sunday."

During the talk he made the following suggestions for the spending of Sunday; First, make it different; second, do not commercialize it; third, spend a part of it in worship; fourth, offer human helpfulness in some way or other. This talk offered much food for thought and therefore was appreciated by all who heard it.

Student Council Organizes For Work of '31-32

The Student Council of '31-'32 has just completed its organization by drawing up a constitution and electing officers.

The president, D. B. Pearson, was appointed by the entire student body. Two members were sent from each class. The council met Monday.

Last year the Student Council was inaugurated in C. H. S. and it proved very successful. School problems were discussed and possible remedies experimented with.

School traffic on the grounds was regulated by three officers appointed by the Council. In the building, monitors were placed to aid quick changes of class-rooms. School conduct at night programs was successfully controlled.

Altogether last year's Council was very successful, and after this week the new Council will begin its work.

One of the best things that could happen to Canyon High would be a successful "Do Your Own Work Campaign." The copying of your friend's theme, the receiving of aid on examinations is plain stealing. Although the subject matter of the theft may be trivial, the moral issue remains unchanged.

You insult your friend when you request such illegal aid of him. You ask him to be an accomplice to the crime of stealing. Perhaps the person who broke into the safe started his career as a thief in school. Is it not logical to think that the student who is willing to steal now will steal later?

Every time you cheat in school you weaken your moral resistence or will power. One time leads to another; small stealing leads to big stealing.

What do you think of the boy who can't play fair on the athletic field? You soon begin calling him by the name of "yellow dog." What is the difference between him and the one who copies a paper? Not a bit. Let's keep that yellow dog idea in our mind and watch a "Do Your Own Work Campaign" go over.

A DIME A DAY KEEPS FATIGUE AWAY

DOING THINGS for others is usually a pleasure. We are in the business of doing things for others. Our service is designed to do for you what you otherwise would have to do for yourself, or engage expensive servants to do for you.

Large sums have been invested by the public to make possible this service to you. Our so-called "profits" are only a fair wage for their money. That wage comes out of what is paid by users of the service we offer at the rate of "a dime a day" on the average. Those who require more service pay more; those who need less service pay less. But each individual determines what he or she pays, according to the amount of service he or she needs.

Electric servants on the average of ten cents a day take the irk out of work, in home, office or industry.

CHAMBER OF COMERCE

FRED E. WORTHAM, Secretary

No doubt, everyone rejoices to learn of the sucecss of the past month's concentrated drive, on the part of those interested in religious activities of the town, in increasing the Sunday School attendance. The big parade and union service planned for Sunday will attract a lot of attention and remind many that should be in the churches of Canyon to attend. We are always pleased to tell the world that Canyon is a city of homes and churches. We have over a half million dollars invested in church property here.

When the new board of the chamber of commerce moves into action it should receive the support of every citizen in Canyon. The new board has a job before it that will require moral and financial assistance of the entire community. The program for next year is a large one and will require much labor. The work of this organization continues to grow and its results are far reaching.

The celebration of Canyon's Silver Anniversary as a municipality will attract wide attention. Old times will be re-lived and the spirit of the occasion promises to be something that hasn't been seen in Canyon in many a day. Practically every citizen has an interest in the old days and such a program as the one outlined by the committee promises to be entertaining to everyone present. Preparations are being made to care for the largest crowd to ever attend a Chamber of Commerce affair.

If you plan to attend, which you should do, buy your ticket at once. Ticket reservations may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce, phone 241. The price of the tickets are 50 cents and for the program and feed planned it can't be beat.

Canyon and Randall county is to receive two pages of publicity in the November issue of the Southwestern Stockman-Farmer. The arrangements for that space was made this week by the secretary. The space which will cost the organization nothing, would require over $300 to purchase.

Other publicity about the county has recently appeared in the Texas Commercial News and Walker's Real Estate Journal.

This section is in the White Spot of American business again. It's getting to be a habit, declares the Amarillo Globe.

Another thing that means a lot to Canyon and attracts attention in this direction, yet it is overlooked by our local people, is the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Dealers Association. Clarence Thompson has served that organization as its secretary for the past several years. It has been through his efforts that the organization has been placed in such a position as to receive national recognition among hardware dealers as a regional organization. The fact that he is actively engaged in the work of the association and that his correspondence is carried on from here means much to this papers.

We feel sure that the people of Canyon will appreciate the spirit of Ray V. Davis in presenting the beautiful picture of a scene in the Palo Duro Canyon to Madame Clare Clairbert on her visit to the Park Sunday. Mr. Davis presented the picture in the name of the Chamber of Commerce and donated the picture for the gift. As a result of the visit of the noted singer to the Palo Duro Park, nationwide publicity was given the Palo Duro Canyon. The expressions of Madame Clairbert about the beauty of the Canyon were quoted in the larger daily newspapers

To our farmer friends who are in need of laborers on their farms, we are asking that they notify us of their needs, in order that this organization may aid in any manner possible in helping to bring together those who need farm help and those who want farm work. We have several names on record of men wanting to get farm work.

A farewell party was given at the home of Chas. Sutton Saturday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kinsey, also Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kinsey, who are moving this week to Garrison, where they will make their home. We regret very much to see them leave, but we know the people are gaining our loss.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Next Sunday, November first, is the first Sunday in Advent, or the beginning of the Christian Year, as observed by the Episcopal Church throughout the world. Advent means "coming," and is a season of thoughtful preparation for the greatest event in human history, the Incarnation of God in Christ, whose birth we celebrate, with all Christian people, at Christmas. The four weeks of Advent are spent in prayer, study and worship, to prepare ourselves for a proper observance of Christmas as a Holy Day, rather than merely a secular holiday, though of course it is the most joyous of all seasons, except Easter.

This year, the first Sunday in Advent is also All Saints' Day, the day upon which we remember our own beloved dead, together with the great saints of all time, who were examples of Christian faith. The usual beautiful service will be held at the Canyon Episcopal Church next Sunday night, at eight o'clock. Mr. Madeira will preach a short sermon appropriate to the occasion, and the names of all who are to be remembered in the prayers will be read. A white flower will be placed upon the altar for each name read. Those already handed in are: Wayne Johnson, Bartow Johnson, Miss Agnes Meyers, Mrs. E. F. Miller, Mrs. F. M. Darnall, Mrs. Thomas F. Gailor, Miss Sara Scoggins and Eugene Shannon.

Anyone who wishes to add a name to this list may do so by communicating with Mrs. Page, at the Little House of Fellowship. Contributions of memorial flowers may be sent to the same place, any time next Sunday afternoon. After the service, these flowers will be sent to the sick and shut-ins. Everyone interested is cordially invited to attend this service.

WOMEN IN POLITICS

To those who decry the advent of women in politics and official life the dismissal of Mrs. Jean Hortense Norris from her position as New York's first woman magistrate will appear as an additional argument for their prejudice against office-holding by the fair sex.

Justices of the State Supreme Court, before whom Judge Norris was tried, unanimously ordered her removal from office, finding her guilty of altering court records to cover up her unfairness to helpless women "framed" for moral offenses; of owning stock in a bonding company operating in her court; of disregarding the constitutional rights of defendants, and of selling her official name to advertise a commercial product.

All these offenses came to light after she had served as magistrate nearly 12 years, besides enjoying an enviable national reputation as a leader in many political and social movements.

As a general proposition, however, Mrs. Norris' fall from grace proves nothing for or against the participation of women in public affairs. It merely demonstrates anew what every student of human nature knew already—that probity is an exclusive attribute of either sex, but that good and evil struggles for mastery in the hearts and minds of men and women alike.

LONG, LONG AGO. . . . . IN PENNSYLVANIA

Millions of years ago in the Devonian Age—while the world rocked with earthquakes and mighty, armored fish swam the seas—Nature stored away in the Bradford-Allegany District of the Pennsylvania field her most valuable crude oil.

Bradford-Allegany crude owes its superior quality to earth conditions in the Devonian Age—an age when heat, pressure and materials were more favorable to the forming of oil than they ever were in the oil-forming ages which went before—or came afterward. And Bradford-Allegany crude has mellowed and filtered for a hundred million years—long enough to bring the crude to the point where in lubricating quality commands the highest price in the Pennsylvania field!

Nothing but Bradford-Allegany crude is used in making Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. But before Bradford-Allegany crude becomes Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil it goes through an exhausive refining process in the big, new Sinclair refinery at Wellsville, N. Y. Here it is triple-filtered, de-waxed at as low as 60 degrees F. below zero and tested to flow freely at zero.

Have us change your oil to Sinclair Pennsylvania according to the Sinclair Law of Lubrication. Then examine this oil after long, hard driving. Note how it stands up—how it comes out of the crankcase almost as good as it went in. Note, especially, how little has been used—positive, visitble proof that rich Pennsylvania oil protects the last mile as well as the first!

HAYMAKERS BOW TO BUFFS IN TIGHT GAME

Passes of Phillips Team Nearly Defeat Buffs; Score is 6 - 0

Playing heads up football thruout the entire game, the thundering herd of Coach Sam Burton took advantage of the breaks to win from the Haymakers of Phillips University of Enid, Okla., by a score of 6 to 0. The Buffs were slightly handicapped by the absence of Otis Burk, first string end, but his place was filled ably by Stowe.

The score came early in the last quarter when Bob Clark, Buffalo quarterback, completed a pass to Williams after he had intercepted a Haymaker pass and raced for nearly forty yards. The Phillips squad threatened early in the game but they lost the ball on downs on the Buffalo two yard line.

Autry, captain and left guard for the Haymakers was by far the outstanding player of the game. Hildinger, Phillips quarterback, ran his team like a veteran and passed the ball excellently. Bob Clark and Joe "College" Fortenberry were the outstanding players for the locals. Fortenberry broke up pass after pass and stopped many end runs around his end.

The features of the game were the freak formations the Haymakers used in the huddle, and the coordinative style of play used by them.

A.C.C. Is Next on Buff Schedule; to Play at Abilene

Coach "Sad" Sam Burton will journey to Abilene this week end with his herd of charging Buffaloes to engage the Abilene Christian College Wildcats in a conference game. This will be the second conference game for the locals this season and should prove to be an interesting fracas. The big coach is not sure at this writing just whether the game will be played on Friday or Saturday. The game was originally scheduled for Friday, but the Wildcats have requested that it be played on Saturday.

The entire squad will be ready for action during this game, unless injuries during the daily practice periods this week prove serious. Several of the boys are slow in recovering from injuries received in the Phillips tussle last week, but they will be ready for the game at Abilene.

College Cafeteria Well Equipped; Is Student Favorite

When President Hill was working upon the plans for the Education Building, which he was determined should be the best in the Southwest, one of the features he wished to include was a cafeteria. It seemed for a time that the funds available for the building would not allow the inclusion of this feature, but at last a way was found to add it.

If the present depression had been foreseen when it was installed in 1928, no better way to help money-shy students to come thru sound in body and disposition could have been devised than the cafeterit offers.

Here with no dish costing more than five cents, with some costing as little as two cents, students and faculty find themselves able to get nourishing and appetizing food at a figure so low that many find it cheaper to eat at the cafeteria than at home.

W. T's. cafeteria, unlike the usual commercial organization of the same name, is under expert supervision, not just to make it pay, but to provide food which will give the patrons an opportunity to have well balanced meals each day. Miss Cleo D. Holmes, who has had extensive training at the Iowa State College at Ames and who is a member of the home economics faculty is actively in charge of the cafeteria. Assisting her are Mrs. Lyons, who does much of the cooking, and four girls, who are able to make much of their expenses working in the cafeteria. They are Susie Roady, Hazel Galloway, Oneta Comer and Ethleen Wofford.

Up-to-Date

Many students have never visited the cafeteria. Its equipment is worth an inspection and Miss Holmes will be glad to explain it. Electric devices include a potato-peeler, dishwasher, mixer, water cooler and refrigerator.

Food which is ready to serve is kept piping hot in steam tables, while just a few steps further on ice cream and sherbets are kept solid in electrically cooled wells, which are part of the refrigerating system.

The cafeteria serves between fifty and sixty each lunch hour and could easily take care of 100 to 150 patrons as it did in the summer.

Miss Holmes and her force make possible many special services to individuals and parties. Training school children who are under weight go to the cafeteria during the morning session of school and get the extra milk they need. Organizations like the Red Men, the Pi Omegas, the Chamber of Commerce or conventions can get together here at a minimum expense. Miss Holmes says that she could take care of many more such parties if they wish to use the cafeteria.

Famous for Food

Town people like to come down to the college eating place to get acquainted with students and faculty. Several wives of Rotary Club members enjoy being away from home on Tuesday, and like to "eat someone else's cooking" at the cafeteria. They find the meats, vegetables, salads, desserts and drinks as good as those they have at home. The apple pies, ginger bread, and noodles are among the items that are helping make a reputation for the place. Many people regularly eat lunches that cost about twenty cents and a few find fifteen cents adequate for their needs. Training school children come with their home-prepared lunches and add soup or milk to provide a meal which will carry them through the strenuous play of the afternoon.

People who get the cafeteria habit make a jolly crowd, which is always glad to welcome newcomers. "Try one lunch then buy a meal ticket" would be a good cafeteria slogan.

Travis Shaw Bags Deer First Day of New Mexico Season

The hills of New Mexico were startled from their majestic serenity last Tuesday morning by a thunder of guns that sounded like a barrage in the World War. The firing commenced promptly at 5:45 a. m. and continued briskly all day, according to Travis Shaw, secretary-treasurer of the College, who was both a spectator and a participant in the annual war against the deer.

Mr. Shaw bagged his first deer within thirty minutes of the opening of hostilities and his companion, G. W. Cox of Canyon, made another one turn a somersault within an hour and a half. They made their kills in Black Canyon, near Magdalena, New Mexico. The party was made up of Mr. Shaw, Mr. Cox, and Mr. Cox's wife, mother and father, but Mr. Shaw and Mr. Cox did the hunting.

They left Canyon Oct. 11 and spent a week on Mr. Cox's ranch near Dalhart camping, taking pictures, taking target practice, and having a good time in general. They went to Black Canyon Monday, Oct. 19, to be on the ground bright and early Tuesday morning when the season opened. Mr. Shaw returned at noon last Friday, but Mr. Cox, who is bringing back the two deer, which are both does, in a truck taken along for the purpose, didn't get back until Sunday.

According to Mr. Shaw, there were some 1,800 hunters in Magdalena for the opening of the season, having been induced to come by a system of national advertising. A feature of the celebration of the opening of the hunting season was a banquet for all the visitors. Each hunter is allowed to kill two does or a doe and a buck in the district in which Mr. Shaw and Mr. Cox hunted.

THIS GREAT TEXAS

A writer once stated that all the people in the world could live in Texas—if they were friends. If they were not friends they would find the condition rather congested. But the man who made the statement was pointing out the vastness of this area which wears the name of Texas. Every now and then someone in the East rises to ask what Texas is like. It is no more possible to answer that question than it is to tell what the United States is like. There is just as much diversity in Texas as there is in the United States as a whole.

Texas might be described as a piney-woods country, a land of soft balsam and soughing boughs; a land of red hills, and winding roads, and old picturesque farmhouses. That would be East Texas, and it would be Texas.

Texas might be described as a land of black prairies, undulating, flower-strewn, dotted with farmhouses and pretty villages; a land where one may look for miles across green cotton fields where the bolls are bursting into snowy blooms. And this would be Texas.

The writer may tell of broad, treeless plains sweeping into the sunset; of ranch houses with their windmills, of herds of cattle roaming over the fields, of cowboys and "broncho-busters" and big-hatted plainsmen riding the ranges. This would be Texas of the novels and the movies, but it would be Texas.

The fanciful writer may see the sun-baked deserts, sprinkled with cactus, the bald, bleak foothills and the spidery-blue mountain ranges rimming the horizon—the haunt of wild animals and the storied land of romance. And this would be Texas.

He might visit the great wheat fields of the Northwest or dip down into the orange groves of the Magic Valley. He might hunt for Lafitte's treasure at Galveston, bathe in the soft surf of the Gulf of Mexico, or travel to South Texas where the colonial mansions of the Old South still stand, embowered in the green arms of the moss-hung trees.

All this one may see and still say it is Texas.—Denison Herald.

Some men die for their country and others try to beat trains over the crossing.

Accomplishing the big things depends on the way little things are handled.

Cox and Hoskinson Share Charlton Spanish Award

As Virginia King, who was awarded the Agnes Charlton Scholarship last spring, was unable to return ths fall, the committee, composed of President Hill, Dean Jarrett, Dean Green, and Dr. Cook, decided to divide the scholarship, giving half to Howard Cox of Canyon and half to Roxie Hoskinson of Hermleigh. The scholarship carries with it the monetary value of one hundred dollars, and is awarded each year on the basis of outstanding work in Spanish. The students character and general merits are also considered.

The Scholarship was divided last year between Oma Wilson and Ila Mae Slack, because Berta Hill, to whom it had been awarded, was unable to return.

A college education is a thing much to be desired, but even more important is to be able to make a living.
